Diversity in the United States

WHERE WE LIVE AND WHO WE ARE

Population Distribution

Educational Attainment of U.S. Population, Age 25 and Over

Foreign-Born U.S. Population by World Region

RACE

People may self-identify with one or more races. The maps below illustrate the diversity of the U.S. population for single-race groups and the multiple-race population.

American Indian or Alaska Native Population

Asian Population

Black or African American Population

Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander Population

HISPANIC OR LATINO POPULATION

Hispanics, who may be of any race, trace their roots to many places. These include Puerto Rico, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Mexico, Spanish-speaking countries in South and Central America, and Spain.

White Population

Two or More Races Population

POPULATION BY AGE AND SEX

One Dot Represents 1,000 People