Move to Organize Unions and Farmers In H. C. L. Fight

CLEVELAND, Oct. 27.—Warren Stone, chief of the engineers' brotherhoods, says that an effort will be made to link all international labor unions and the nation's agricultural organizations for a fight against high food prices at the coming Farm and Labor conference at Washington. Stone hopes to eliminate the middle man in the cooperative scheme.

Sugar Shortage Placed at Door of Refiners

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 27.—The blame for the existing sugar situation in Southern California was placed squarely at the door of the refiners today by the announcement of United States District Attorney Robert O'Connor that he would place evidence of alleged profiteering by several refiners before the federal grand jury when it meets Friday of this week.

intention of the government, according to Mr. O'Connor, to find all about sugar and sugar prices.

Evidence of profiteering has been collected by agents of the United States department of justice and with the signing by President Wilson of an amendment to the Lever act, the government was given the power to investigate and prosecute those accused of hoarding and exacting excessive prices.

While the department of justice agents have been busy completing their accumulation of evidence to lay before the federal grand jury, with the intention of asking for indictments against several Southern California refiners, a number of rumors gained credence among bakers and confectioners whose business is being ruined by the lack of sugar.

Although United States District Attorney O'Connor declares a general campaign against high prices, profiteering and hoarding is to be inaugurated by the government here, the sugar situation will be taken up first because of the acuteness of the shortage. It is the

One of the most persistent rumors was to the effect that one well known Los Angeles jobber is holding more than 30,000 sacks of sugar in storage, for sale during the Christmas season when because of a greater demand than even at present it is thought the price will go higher.

A Los Angeles baker told of midnight trips of a truck from a sugar refinery to a Los Angeles wholesale establishment, declaring that sugar is being

Takes Stand That Purposes of Bill Have Been Accomplished

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—It was stated from the White House that the prohibition enforcement bill was laid before the president today. Unless it is acted upon before midnight tomorrow night the bill automatically becomes law. The president's position is not known, but it is believed he will sign it if the attorney general has reported favorably on its constitutionality. The bill gives department of justice adequate machinery to enforce the wartime bill of July 1st.

quate machinery to enforce the wartime bill of July 1st.

Will Make No Change

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Theodore Bell, spokesman for the wet interests, said today that no essential change in the liquor situation would be caused by the bill now before the president, but he believes the war-time act will be dead in a week.

[By United Press]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—President Wilson this afternoon vetoed the prohibition enforcement bill because, as he stated, of that part referring to war-time prohibition. "I object and cannot approve," he said, "of that part of legislation with reference to war-time prohibition." The president in a statement explaining his veto said: "The bill has to do with the enforcement of an act which was passed by reason of the emergencies of war and whose objects have been satisfied in the demobilization of the army and navy and whose repeal I have already sought at the hands of congress."

World's Workers to Meet This Week

Many Measures to Alleviate Conditions to Be Discussed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The World's Workers will caucus in Washington, beginning this week. The National Federation of Trade Unions opens today and tomorrow the International Congress of Working Women opens its session. The International Labor Conference of the League of Nations begins Wednesday, when action is expected on an eight-hour day for women and children, methods of arbitration and mediation, collective bargaining in strikes and lockouts and industrial participation in industrial profits and management.

brought in to be stored for the rise in price which he says the refiners and some of the wholesalers are determined shall come.

At the same time the federal authorities began an investigation into the alleged disappearance a short time ago of a whole shipload of cane sugar which is known to have arrived in San Francisco. This sugar is said to have been taken to a refinery at Vallejo for refining and then to have completely disappeared. Los Angeles sugar brokers have not received any cane sugar for more than two months.

The cure for the situation, according to the federal authorities, lies in punishment of the profiteers who they declare in this case are almost all refiners. Retailers and the majority of jobbers are not making an excessive profit in their belief.

MINERS, OPERATORS TO MEET

At a meeting Saturday afternoon at the executive offices between Governor Boyle and representatives of several of the larger mining companies at Tonopah it was arranged that a conference of miners' representatives and operators of the Tonopah and Divide districts should be called for next Saturday at Tonopah.

Just what matters will be up for discussion and consideration was not stated, but they will probably have to do with the present labor conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Green, newspaper people of Butte county, Calif., who have been sojourning in Carson valley the past week, were visitors to this city yesterday. It is possible they will become residents.

ENDORSES SUGGESTION TO INCREASE TEACHERS' PAY

At a meeting of the deputy superintendents of schools held in Carson City steps were taken to increase the pay of all teachers of the state, which will meet with the hearty approval of all residents.

There is no question that all our teachers are underpaid, and this is one of the reasons for the great shortage of teachers in all sections of the country. While wages have advanced in practically all other lines of employment, that of teachers has remained practically stationary for many years. As a matter of fact our teachers never have been paid a decent salary for the responsibilities they assume.

There will be no chance for an increase of salary this year, but if the advice of the state superintendent and deputies is followed out there will be a special tax next year of 15 cents on each $100, which will allow a considerable increase in salary, which will prove an encouragement to teachers.—Ely Record.

APPORTIONING BENEFITS

Colonel J. G. Scrugham, state engineer, was in Yerington last Wednesday, coming here to help the directors of the irrigation district help settle the problems arising out of apportioning the benefits to accrue from the storage project, and formulate practical methods of levying equitable assessments.

As practically all of the directors are land owners in the district, it was deemed advisable by them to secure the assistance of Mr. Scrugham to help them in this work.—Yerington Times.

WHO GOES THERE!

Out of fully 100 poems, the following, written by Mrs. Grace Duffie Boylan, was chosen for the dedication of the first biography ever written of Theodore Roosevelt.

Mrs. Boylan was a life-long friend of the former president and she collaborated in this biography with Charles Eugene Banks, Leroy Armstrong, General Joseph Wheeler and Opie Reed. The poem was released for publication in the west only last week, and is as follows:

Who goes there? An American!
Brain and spirit and brawn and heart.
'Twas for him that the nation spared
Each to the years its noblest part;
Till from the Dutch, the Gaul and Celt
Blossomed the soul of Roosevelt.

Student, trooper and gentleman,
Level-lidded with times and kins,
His voice for a comrade's cheer,
His the ear when the saber rings;
Hero shades of the old days melt
In the quick pulse of Roosevelt.

Hand that's molded to hilt or sword;
Heart that ever has laughed at fear;
Type and pattern of civic pride;
Wit and grace of the cavalier;
All that his fathers prayed and felt
Gleams in the glance of Roosevelt.

Who goes there? An American!
Man to the core—as men should be.
Let him pass through the lines alone,
Type of the sons of liberty.
Here where his father's fathers dwelt,
Honor and faith for Roosevelt.
