Figure 4 shows the total amounts of state tax revenue for the two largest tax subcategories, individual income and general sales and gross receipts taxes. Figure 5 displays the percentage change for individual income and general sales and gross receipts taxes from the same quarter of the prior year. In 2009, each quarter experienced a decrease in both individual income and general sales and gross receipts taxes. Starting with the first quarter of 2010, there has been an increase in both tax subcategories each quarter.

2 Effective January 1, 2013, the sales tax in California temporarily increased by 0.25 percent for the next 4 years and personal income tax for California residents with an annual income over $250,000 temporarily increased for the next 7 years.
